

~ A Story From 158 Years of Great Banking ~

WHY THIRTEEN-YEAR OLD JOHN BANKS AT BURKE & HERBERT BANK (JUST LIKE HIS PARENTS AND GRANDPARENTS)

When John Muckerman was eleven years old, he helped his parents organize a yard sale. After a long day of selling, he pocketed a tidy profit. John was tempted to immediately spend it on new video games, but his father suggested he open his first account at Burke & Herbert Bank.

Why Burke & Herbert Bank? It's where John's parents and grandparents bank, and by opening his savings account, John is the third generation of his family to use this fifth-generation-run bank.

"We've banked at Burke & Herbert Bank for years," says John's grandpa, Joe Muckerman. "What I love best about Burke & Herbert Bank is the good old-fashioned service."

John's Dad, Ed, agrees. He knows Burke & Herbert Bank is a top-consumer rated bank according to Washington Consumer Checkbook magazine. Along with excellent service, Ed appreciates all the modern banking services including 24/7 Online Banking, Bill Payer and electronic statement delivery. "I'm a customer for life," he says.

These days, John happily watches his money grow in Burke & Herbert Bank's Kids Savings Program. "It's fun and when I get my statement I like to see how much money I have," he says.

As for spending his money on video games? "I don't really want to use my savings," John says. "So, I'll ask my grandparents to get me some for my birthday."
